Reds Increase Harassment of Berlin Workers

Measures Viewed As Answer to Western Protest

BERLIN (AP)—Communist authorities in East Berlin announced new measures today to harass Germans who live in the Red East but work in West Berlin.

The Communist city government decreed that from Aug. 1 such commuters must pay their bills for rent, electricity, gas, water and other public services in Western German marks on a mark-for-mark basis.

Western money is worth nearly five times as much as the bills the Communists print.

Threatened With Jail

Violators were threatened with jail sentences and fines.

Commuters were again ordered to register with the Communist authorities whether they hold regular jobs or just do occasional work. Some 52,000 are registered in West Berlin but many of these—perhaps as many as 20,000—are not registered with the Communists. An estimated 20,000 to 30,000 more work without registering at all.

Many of the latter group belong to the "wash-rag squad" women from the East who do housework for the more prosperous West Berliners.

The new Communist measures looked in West Berlin like the Red reply to a protest Thursday from the U.S. British and French commandants in West Berlin against other recent restrictions on travel between East and West Berlin which is supposed to be guaranteed by the four occupation powers.

No Comment On Protest

In announcing the new measures the East Berlin city government made no comment on the protest which was delivered to the Soviet commandant. The Red announcement noted however that Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin had not replied to a proposal by East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert for talks about the commuters.

Brandt said that if the Communists respect the right of Berliners to move freely and choose their own jobs there would be nothing to talk about.

In recent weeks the commuters have been subjected to many restrictions by the Communists. They have been told that they cannot have new apartments, that they may not buy such things as motorcycles and washing machines, and that their children do not have the same rights to schooling as others.

There has been a campaign against them in the Communist press, and their names have been posted publicly.

Communist police seized the identity cards of some commuters from the suburbs Thursday. The commuters received a new paper which barred them from the city. The Communists have also been trying to stop the flow of refugees to the West via West Berlin. To

Discoverer Rocket Fails In Orbit Try

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A trouble-shooter rocket ran into trouble itself—and ended up in the South Pacific ocean instead of a polar orbit.

Discoverer XXVII was launched Thursday at this big rocket base, destined for a few days' orbiting, and it was hoped, a recovery of its ejectable capsule near Hawaii.

It carried special instruments to check performance of various parts of the two-stage rocket. Discoverer XXVII went awry at launching and had to be blown up. Scientists had hoped No. 28 would help them learn why.

Instead, No. 28 suffered just as dismal a fate—although it took longer. The launch seemed perfect, the first stage dropped free as planned, and the second stage fired.

But, 90 minutes after launch, in-

May Be Life Imprisonment

Penalty Sought For Aircraft Piracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid mounting congressional demands for action aimed at halting airliner hijacking, a Senate hearing opens today on legislation to make such offenses federal crime punishable by life imprisonment. That's the penalty for piracy on the high seas.

The proposed bill also would provide stiff penalties for assaulting, threatening or interfering

IBOP Issues Worker Call

E. Liverpool Area Plants Cite Needs

For the first time in many years, the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery has sent out a call for journeymen craftsmen to take unfilled job openings at East Liverpool district dinnerware plants.

The need for the new workers was attributed to several factors—what was termed a "mild" upturn in business in some of the plants, a migration of potters to other plants and other industries outside the immediate area and retirement of elderly employees in recent years.

On leading manufacturer said the upturn in business is a factor in the need for additional employees, but that the migration to other plants and industries and retirement also are behind the need.

The IBOP issued the call for additional journeymen today in its official newspaper, The Potters Herald. It headed the story: "Many Jobs Available in All Crafts As Work Picks up in East Liverpool Area."

"Several companies have requested substantial numbers of various crafts to be hired to take care of increased orders and contemplated production," Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell was the only firm singled out by name in the IBOP's account. It said Laughlin has requested 16 additional kilnhands. A Laughlin spokesman termed his company's upturn in business as "mild."

"Several other companies are in need of handlers, jiggersmen, casters, packers and various oth-

100 More Blood Donors Needed Here

Approximately 100 blood donors are needed to meet the local quota of 125 pints set for the Cleveland Regional Bloodmobile visit in Salem Aug. 10.

The unit is scheduled to operate at the St. Paul School auditorium from noon until 6 p.m. The women of St. Paul's will furnish and supervise the canteen.

Seventy-two persons have already signed up as donors, but Louis J. Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program said it is necessary to over-schedule because of the many donors who are deferred for illnesses or fail to keep their appointment.

Raymond, along with Carmen McNichol, general church chairman, and Michael Schuller, general industrial chairman, stressed that an all-out effort must be made to meet the August quota. They pointed out that East Palestine had recently failed to meet its quota by 40 pints at a recent bloodmobile visit, and that if Salem should also fall short of its quota, the North Columbiana chapter might again face cancellation of the vital community program. Blood would then cost a patient $25 a pint, they said.

Prospective donors who desire a baby sitter at their home while visiting the bloodmobile are asked to call the Red Cross office.

Border Patrol Officer Nabs Plane Hijackers

Father, Son Held; Bullets Prevent Takeoff of Craft

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A father-and-son team hijacked a jet airliner Thursday, caused a furor in Congress, and were captured by one blow from an enraged U.S. Border Patrol official. The hijacker pair, Leon Bearden, 38, and his son, Cody Bearden, 16, were bound over to a federal grand jury under bonds totaling $200,000.

On orders from President Kennedy not to deal with the hijackers, that he would not be blackmailed, Border Patrol men shot the tires from the $5-million Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet as it rolled toward a takeoff for Havana, Cuba.

Then, his nine-hour adventure coming to a fast climax, Bearden allowed FBI men aboard as the hostages left the plane—all but Leonard Gilman. Gilman is associate deputy regional commissioner of the Border Patrol and lives in Long Beach, Calif.

When Bearden for a moment dropped his eyes, Gilman with one bone-breaking wallop knocked him to the plane deck, his cheek spurting blood. Gilman's broken hand later was placed in a cast.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington the elder Bearden in January had visited the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City and indicated a desire to go to Cuba. But the general feeling in Washington appeared to be the Cuban government had no part in the latest U.S. plane hijacking.

The hijacking of Continental's Los Angeles-to-Houston flight came soon after the aircraft had stopped at Phoenix, Ariz., and 20 minutes from El Paso on Texas' far western tip.

Bearden and his son, a slightly built blond, entered the cockpit behind two stewardesses.

"We're going to take this plane to Cuba," the elder Bearden told Capt. B. D. Rickards, the plane's commander. "Alter your course 45 degrees to the south."

Rickards, a veteran of 34 years of flying, alerted El Paso International Airport, with a code word that the plane was hijacked. Then he persuaded Bearden that the plane had too little fuel for the Cuban flight and that they must land at El Paso to refuel.

Rickards said Bearden told him there were four armed men on the plane and the captain so messaged the El Paso airport. This caused some confusion for a time and also caused two of the hostage crewmen, mistaken for pi-

State X-Ray Unit Plans Salem Visit

The State Department of Health mobile X-ray unit will visit Salem and Columbiana County in September to provide free chest X-rays to the public.

Plans for the visitation of the state unit have been completed by city health department officials and the state officers. Confering here with Dr. R. T. Holzbach, city health commissioner; Mrs. Elizabeth Stacy, city health nurse, and Sanitarian Angelo Vivino, were Morris Stamm and Aaron Shapiro, technicians with the Ohio Department of Health, and Miss Edith Myers and Fern Wood, nurse in charge of tuberculosis control for the state.

The state X-ray mobile will be stationed on South Broadway in front of the Strouss-Hirshberg store Sept. 6, 7 and 8. The same unit will be in Wells-ville Sept. 11 and 12 and in East Liverpool Sept. 13, 14 and 15. From Sept. 18 through the 22nd, the state X-ray unit will tour other county communities, including Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana.

The state unit is being brought here because the Columbiana County Health League no longer promotes public chest X-rays, local health officials explained.

FAA Permits Airline Crews To Bear Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has authorized commercial airline crews to carry guns to prevent any more hijacking.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby announced the arming authority Thursday—soon after two hijackers, who took over a Boeing 707 jet airliner, surrendered to federal officers at El Paso, Tex.

The immediate reaction of industry leaders was either indecision or outright rejection.

From American Airlines came a statement that it flatly was "against arming any members of any of our crews." Other airlines said they would take the matter under consideration.

Clarence N. Sayen, president of the Airline Pilots Association, said: "The association does not advocate arming of pilots."

John Carroll, of Kansas City, Mo., association first vice president, said pilots were unenthusiastic about the idea. He said the safety value of arming crews was doubtful because of great hazard involved in firing a gun in a pressurized airplane.

In making his announcement at a news conference, Halaby said crew members should be armed "only when they have recent training and demonstrable proficiency."

Halaby also had this advice for crew members — keep your cockpits closed from the inside.

Halaby disclosed to newsmen that President Kennedy was the federal official who made the decision to turn down all deals and move in on the hijackers at El Paso.

Halaby agreed that the action had endangered the 67 passengers and 6 crew members.

"If anyone had been injured or killed it would have been a tragedy," Halaby said.

"But we are in the middle of a conflict between law-abiding citizens and law-breaking citizens and law-abiding nations and lawless nations, and it's up to us to manage it intelligently. To do so one has to take some risk, despite the anxiety."

Asks Western Bloc To Conclude Treaty On 'Agreement'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government told the United States and other big Western powers in a note today that it was ready to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin question, but warned against military threats.

The note made no specific mention of calling a conference to reach a German agreement although there were rumors in Moscow that the Russians hope to see such a conference before the German elections and perhaps within two or three weeks. The German election comes in mid-September.

The notes, delivered Thursday to the embassies of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, reiterated the repeated statement of Premier Khrushchev that unless an agreement is reached a Soviet peace treaty will be signed with East Germany without American or other Western participation.

The note was a reply to parallel notes delivered to Russia by the three Allied powers and West Germany on July 17.

The Western nations in their notes insisted that a peace treaty could be signed with a united Germany only after free all-German elections and declared they will remain in West Berlin under their war-won rights.

In addition to warning the Kremlin of the dangers presented by Moscow's proposals on Berlin and Germany, the Western notes pronounced Britain, France and the United States ready to consider "a freely negotiated settlement of the unresolved problems of Germany."

Moscow Radio said Russia's three notes urged the Western powers to conclude a German peace treaty "on the basis of agreement."

This treaty, the notes said, "should lead to the normalization of the situation in West Berlin."

The 15-page note addressed to the United States stated that a separate Soviet treaty with East Germany will be signed "provided that the United States and other Western powers to not cease impeding the solution of the question

Three Are Hurt In E. Palestine Crash

EAST PALESTINE — An East Palestine woman and her daughter were admitted to Salem City Hospital Thursday with injuries received at 12:05 p.m. yesterday when the brakes failed on their car and it crashed into a tree on the Market St. Hill.

Mrs. Helen Palarie, 31, is in fair condition with possible internal injuries and multiple contusions. Her daughter, Joanne, 9, is in fairly good condition with a possible concussion, a laceration of the scalp and a cut of the lip.

Police said the car driven by Mrs. Palarie's husband, Joseph, went out of control after the brakes failed as he was descending the hill. The vehicle jumped a curb and crashed into a tree in front of the Robert Burns residence.

Police said the couple's daughter, who was sitting in the rear seat, was thrown through the windshield.

The driver sustained a laceration of the lip and was treated by a local doctor.

Subdues Gunman In Plane

Border Official Plays Hero Role At Hijacking

By MARK DEERING and DON LUND

El Paso Times Staff Writers Written For The Associated Press

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Leonard W. Gilman, 43, played the hero's role Thursday in subduing two gunmen who hijacked a continental Airlines Boeing 707 and held local and federal police at bay for almost 10 hours.

"The elder gunman was saying, 'I would sooner commit suicide than to turn myself into the authorities,'" Gilman said in an interview Thursday night "He seemed to be getting hysterical."

"That's when I made my move. I caught him behind the ear and threw a full nelson on him to keep him from getting to the two guns in his hip pocket."

Francis Crosby, FBI agent in charge of the El Paso office, who was in the plane at the time, jumped the younger hijacker and it was all over.

Gilman, associate deputy regional commissioner in charge of operations of the U.S. Border Patrol out of San Pedro, Calif., told this story:

"When the two gunmen took over the plane they found out I was an officer and they searched me immediately for a gun. After that they kept a close watch on me."

"One of the women became hysterical and began crying. I told her we would see that she got off all right. That's when I talked the hijackers into letting the passengers off."

"I volunteered to be a hostage if they let the rest of the passengers go. When they started to take off from the field, they made the hostages move to the middle compartment of the plane. Then they made us fasten our safety belts."

"Then those on the outside of the aircraft began shooting at the tires."

Gilman said the elder hijacker became scared at the shooting and pointed his gun at the head of one of the people in the plane.

"His reaction to the shooting outside was one of the more dangerous moments on the plane."

"The boy didn't talk at all but the father was very talkative. I talked the father into taking the gun from his boy."

"I tried to appeal to him as a father. I said the boy didn't know what he was doing and didn't have any business with the gun."

"The father said he was fed up with the American government. He said he was going to Cuba."

Two Boys Fined for E. Liverpool Burglary

LISBON — Two East Liverpool boys, aged 16 and 17, were fined and placed on probation to their parents at a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for burglary of a home while the owners were on vacation.

The two youths broke into the home of Arch Pinkerton of East Liverpool, taking a variety of loot including two guns, two radios and 22 books of trading stamps. They were fined $25 each and must pay $35 for damages caused. Kenneth Hutchinson, 20, of East Liverpool was charged in Municipal Court at East Liverpool with receiving stolen goods after he accepted a radio from the youths.

Narrow Bridge On Rt. 558 Replaced

The Division 11 bridge maintenance crew of the Ohio Department of Highway's has completed work on replacement of a narrow bridge on Rt. 558 in Columbiana County.

The structure, which has been posted for one-way traffic is located about two miles east of the junction with Rt. 164, northeast of Lisbon.

The bridge maintenance men expect to begin work Monday on replacement of another narrow structure on Rt. 558 about four miles east of the one already completed.

FINED BY COUNTY JUDGE
LISBON — Harold E. Hawkins, 26, Wellsville Rd., was fined $10 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald when he was found guilty of driving left of center. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

President Signs Bill For Extra Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed Thursday a bill to authorize spending an extra billion dollars on missiles, ships and planes to bolster the armed services in the face of Soviet threat against Berlin.

The Senate prepared to act on an expanded $47 billion defense money bill including Kennedy's request for an extra $3.5 billion — some of it for items in the newly passed authorization bill. Passage appeared certain, with leaders of both parties endorsing the added funds.

Kennedy acted with rare speed in signing the authorization measure. He penned his name on the bill less than 24 hours after the House rushed it to him by a unanimous 403-0 vote.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

Attempted Entry, Theft Are Probed

LISBON — A theft of a rifle and an attempted breaking and entering are being investigated by the Columbiana County sheriff's department.

Carl Butch of New Waterford, residing in an apartment in the rear of Joe's Tavern, reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that someone stole a high-powered rifle from his apartment within the past five weeks.

Melvin Martin of near Wellsville reported last night that someone tried to enter his home through a locked screen door. Deputies believe the intruder was scared away before he gained entrance.

SGT. JOHN STILLWELL, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Stillwell of the Columbiana-Middleton Road, went to Hawaii in July where he will be stationed for the next three years. His address is Sgt. John Stillwell, Co. B, 2nd Battle Group, 21st Infantry, APO 25, San Francisco, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yattle are the parents of a son, Anthony Joseph, born Tuesday at the Central Clinic in Salem.

Mrs. Battle is the former Charlotte Hough.

Fined were William D. Betz, RD 5, Lisbon, $5, operating vehicle with broken headlight; John W. Shearer, East Palestine, $5, failure to stop at an intersection, and Paul L. Martin, Homeworth, $10, failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. Wayne Montgomery of Sebring forfeited a $15 bond for passing without the assured clear distance ahead.

New Teaching Assignments Are Announced In Lisbon

LISBON — New teaching assignments for the forthcoming school year were announced today by School Supt. Russell Armitage.

The superintendent said the Lisbon system was fortunate to secure highly qualified teachers, many of whom have had previous experience.

Supt. Armitage said the transfer of the eighth grade to Lincoln School has permitted a reduction in the number of teachers required. He said the system is adding four new sections in the elementary school but increasing the total staff by only two members. Barring late resignations, the teaching staff is complete, he said.

New teachers employed and those transferred to other classes are:

McKinley School: Miss Della Wetzel, fulltime principal; Mrs. Mary Gee and Mrs. Judy Bryan, kindergarten; Miss Nettie McPherson and Mrs. Janet Watson of Salineville, first grade; Miss Nancy Shattuck and Mrs. Sandra Rowan, second grade; Mrs. Arlene Homan, third grade; Mrs. Grace Smith, fourth grade; Howard Lehm, fifth grade; and Mrs. Sally Workman, formerly of the Mansfield school system, sixth grade.

Lincoln School: Jack Lewis, principal; Mrs. Sandra Borror, sixth grade; Miss Barbara Davis, fourth grade; Mrs. Patricia Fleming, language arts in grades seven and eight; Robert Firestone, social studies in grade 5 also be responsible for the elementary school football program).

Mrs. Mable Pike, fourth grade; Mrs. Betty Lepley and Carl Flitcraft, seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Lepley will teach language arts and Flitcraft will teach math and science.

High School: Mrs. Carolyn Dotson of Columbiana, home economics; Ivan Dye of Salineville, advanced mathematics and varsity coach; Miss Edna Russell of New Matamoras, English.

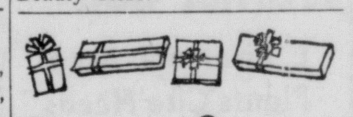

The only remaining vacancy in the school system is that of a librarian. This position has been filled and will be announced in the near future.

Let The Cheering Be Restrained

Under the rule that progress calls for change and therefore change is likely to be progress, Americans are tempted to believe British membership in the European Common Market would be progress. It decidedly would be change.

Enthusiasm on this side of the Atlantic is made brisker by the possibility, better still, the probability, that if Britain lined up with France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg for mutual trade benefit, this bloc would become the nucleus for a "United States of Europe." The prospect of political unity would be enhanced if smaller nations now living outside the Common Market in a trade agreement of their own joined Britain in the organization.

Politics then might follow the line of least economic resistance, as it did in the United States. To this day, no love is lost among the sovereign states of the American Union. Yet, they get along reasonably well because it is to their common interest to do so and because they have set up machinery to punish their own defectors.

The prospect of European unity is exciting for Americans. It is as if they were about to gain converts to a religion they have been preaching since they founded their own "more perfect Union." But in the same prospect they also may find reason to be wary of a more closely organized Europe, especially a United States of Europe. Would it not be likely to manifest its unity in the same way unity was manifested here?

A united Europe would pit its collective strength against larger rivals. Secure in its own free flow of trade, it would erect tariff barriers against outsiders. Its producers, having expanded their means of production to meet larger demands at home, would seek larger export markets abroad.

The United States of American and the United States of Europe would be formidable rivals. European politicians, once parochial and circumscribed, would begin to beat their breasts in the heady atmosphere of their new "continentalism."

In the abstract, a United States of Europe seems so logical, so full of potential benefit, that the idea cannot be questioned.

But in reality it would be a vexing problem for the United States of America, which then would have to be given more serious thought than ever before to broadening its own structure of Pan-Americanism to offset the Old World's pan-Europeanism.

Compassion Guide For America

Most of the chiefs of the country's voluntary health and welfare agencies now have received and read their copies of the year's best seller in their field—"Voluntary Health & Welfare Agencies in the United States."

The book is an exploratory study by a citizens committee financed by the Rockefeller Foundation. Its purpose is to forestall loss of confidence in agencies soliciting funds from the U.S. public.

Its message concerns the enormous increase in the agencies' income and the necessity of finding out what they do with it.

Its conclusion is that no one can find out under present conditions because the agencies do not practice uniform accounting and financial reporting.

And its recommendation—the thing that will have the personnel of the agencies and their friends and critics buzzing is a national commission to evaluate and guide the nation's voluntary health and welfare agencies.

This would be similar to the local control and evaluation of agencies now carried on by the United Fund type of organization. But the United Fund is primarily an efficient way to raise money, whereas the national commission would be concerned with efficient ways to spend money. It would furnish information about the voluntary agencies—both those calling themselves independent and those affiliated with federated fund-raising organizations.

Its members would be non-ag-grinders; that is, people whose own jobs would not be at stake. Its service would be built on the premise that the philanthropic impulse of the American people—$1.5 billion and up—is not sufficient unto itself. It would be built, in fact, on the premise that police action against the confidence game is built: No one has an absolute right to bilk his fellowmen without meeting resistance.

This is a debatable point. Even if a national commission were set up, using the already offered facilities of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants to set up a uniform reporting and accounting system, it would be years before any reform could be expected, barring such changes of heart as might occur spontaneously.

But resistance would be crystallizing, and with the world the way it is that's about all anyone could ask. The philanthropists would be given a somewhat longer run for their money if they choose to take advantage of the advice available to them. If not, it still would be their money from which they soon would be parted, according to one of the oldest of all adages.

What Happened In Columbus?

The Ohio General Assembly's Republican majority has had a rough passage in the 1961 session. It may have a still rougher passage when it returns to Columbus next November to pick up the pieces of the two-year appropriations act shattered by Gov. DiSalle's decision to veto all the second-year items.

Between now and then, the governor and his executive department can build a case against Republican prudence. By shuffling and shading, they can make it appear that prudence really was parsimony, which it decidedly wasn't.

With the moral support of a Democratic administration in Washington encouraged by a growing war fever to spend faster and faster, the spending faction in Ohio can pick up vastly more momentum than it had early this year when the 104th General Assembly convened.

Moreover, on the assumption that Gov. DiSalle intends to go after a second four-year term, he will be practicing his political starts and sprints in November, and Democrats never seek re-election on a basis of how much money they saved but how much money they intend to spend.

Ohio Republicans took a gamble when they bucked Gov. DiSalle on his free-spending doctrine. They had to believe most Ohioans would settle for a leveling-off at a billions dollars a year in Ohio for a few years to come.

Most of all they had to believe the state wanted to live within the anticipated income, with no increase in taxation. Their party had won back its traditional majority in the 1960 election by criticizing the DiSalle administration's taxing and spending.

Its leaders did not foresee Gov. DiSalle's politically shrewd budget veto. It was caught unprepared to make an equally aggressive political riposte and has ended up on the defensive.

Gov. DiSalle, a top performer in politics, out-performed his opposition by letting half the steam out of their 1961 budget action. Republican leadership will need to do its homework thoroughly between now and November to keep the "fall session" from turning into a springboard for Gov. DiSalle and a boomerang for them.

It's no wonder health leaves some folks, the way they neglect it year after year.

If you want to give three cheers, use smiles, encouragement and optimism.

Once Over

SARATOGA, N.Y.

Well, I am up here for the picketing and racing season and I think the horses I bet on are mistaking the finish line for a picket line and refusing to cross it. I search the charts but can't find a nag with any labor-dispute form.

The last time an "Unfair" sign was seen up here was when a British Redcoat raised it against the colonial troops in the Battle of Saratoga. There has been no trouble up here since—until this year. It is so restful up in these peaceful hills that even a picket can't feel unhappy and warlike.

I established contact with a "still" up in the woods to be ready if bartenders quit, and I couldn't figure they would on account of a reported reappearance of "get-it-for-you-off-a-boat" boys and flask carriers.

Everybody was worried up to opening day, especially the Saratoga house-owners who lease the house or the best rooms for enough to make a big year for them financially. But they did okay after a late start.

Saratoga casts such a spell over everybody that not even organized labor feels too much like interfering with horse racing at its best.

By H. I. Phillips

All in all Saratoga is still Saratoga and I like losing money here better than any other track.

Joe ("Bet Two Dollars") Gates

P.S.: I will take in the Saratoga nag auction but be extra careful not to move a muscle or lip on account of I don't want to get arrested for a fake bid of $175,000 on a skinner that ain't even had a saddle on yet.

ARTHUR LEVITT, one of Gotham's candidates for mayor, campaigned by loudspeaker along Coney Island's beaches. To a wife who seemed influenced one husband snapped "Listen, if you couldn't learn to swim all these years with Wagner what could Levitt do about it?" Then there was the bather who yelled back at Levitt, "If you can do so much, stop the skin on my nose from peeling."

"I am afraid I leaned over too far backward in thinking that things scheduled and ordered done—and which I was told had been done—were not done properly, if at all," says Mayor.

Global Propaganda

By VICTOR RIESEL

ANKARA
It isn't only rockets the Communist bloc rattles. From somewhere in the United States, Communist propagandists have picked up some old movie film cans—the type which hold reels of celluloid—and are heaving their contents at us with brutal impact. Here, where East does meet

Victor Riesel

West, I've run onto the trail of a movie called "Salt of the Earth"—produced under the sponsorship of none other than the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union.

This union sits astride much of our vital copper, nickel, uranium, hard water and other ingredients of defense production. The union's headquarters are in Denver, Colo. At the moment, this union's motion picture is being shown in Peiping theaters and the official propagandists are having themselves quite a time using the film as "evidence" of a fascist United States.

THE FILM is a full-length feature treatment—fictionalized—of a miners' strike in Bayard, N. M. It was produced by the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union.

At that time the motion picture projectionists of the International Alliance of Theatrical State Employees for the most part refused to handle it. Stagehands' leader Dick Walsh said it would embarrass the U.S. and would be used by Communists across the world to make us out to be haters of colored people everywhere. Walsh was—and is—right.

The Mine, Mill film is being billed as the picture of revolt in the United States. Our "working by monopoly capital." This is the equated with "U.S. Imperialism's exploitation of working people."

Then "U.S. imperialism" is charged with being the "chief enemy" of the peoples of Asia.

THE COMMUNIST propagandists don't overlook a thing. Part of the advance publicity on the film ran this way:

The American wage earner is developing from "ordinary worker to class-conscious soldier. . . and it shows that this is not only the struggle of the Bayard miners against the Taft-Hartley anti-labor law but also the struggle of progressive American film artists against the Congress."

Nowhere is it said that this picture was produced back in '53 not long after the Mine, Mill union was expelled from U.S. labor's ranks on charges of following the pro-Soviet line.

The film is simply being shown as an American production sponsored by an allegedly angry American people. The Chinese Communists have made hundreds of prints and are running them in their factories, schools and communes.

As soon as they've saturated huge and restless mainland China, Peiping's Propaganda Ministry plans to export the film to the rest of Southeast Asia, and, via Cuba, distribute it throughout Latin America. This will hurt us.

THE "MOVIE" features Mexican-American actors and actual miners. To get a glamorous female lead, the producers asked a Mexican actress by name of Rosaura Revueltas to come to the location in New Mexico where the picture was being shot.

She was then picked up by the immigration authorities on charges of entering the U.S. illegally. However she made it, and was co-featured with Juan Chacon, the Mexican-American president Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Local 809, who had the male lead.

There is no doubt that the United States will come out of all this as a brutal ogre.

How can we fight this vast global Communist bloc propaganda assault which probably will do us more harm and lose us more friends than rockets which never will be launched?

I believe I found the answer in Rome. I believe the world—our world—should know what our embassy has done in a single plot experiment.

There our embassy went right into the working class district of Torpignattara, about 18 months ago. Until then we had one cultural center in Rome—right on the fashionable Via Veneto.

WE STARTED in the workers neighborhood on March 8, 1960 with a small staff, three or four people at the most.

Under the program begun on that day, we give English classes. We distribute books free—fiction and non-fiction, science and history.

We show films. We tell them exactly what the United States and our citizenry is like. We're open when they come home from a hard day's work. We don't pitch. We just tell them the truth.

Since the opening of this service, an average of 6,300 a month have entered the U.S. center in Rome's Torpignattara district. And when on April 18, Communist strong-arm squads tried to whip up a fury against us because of the invasion of Cuba, the demonstrators found a force of Italian workers lined up in front of our big glass windows.

These were — and are — our friends. The Communists retreated. At least in Rome we won one. Now let's try it across the world.

Quiet Diplomacy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Secret Talks Bring Hope Of Peace

IN EUROPE
Oddly enough, whenever "quiet diplomacy" gets going, there is more hope for peace than from all the public statements, speeches and propaganda exchanges put together.

Two episodes in the realm of "quiet diplomacy" are attracting worldwide attention.

First, John David Lawrence McCloy went to Moscow primarily to discuss, on behalf of the United States government, the vague and ponderous subject of arrangements for more international conferences on disarmament but he was suddenly invited by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to visit him at his Black Sea vacation home, and seems to have been warmly entertained.

In the midst of this, Mr. McCloy was given a personal message for President Kennedy about the Berlin crisis.

The Soviet ruler brushed aside his own speeches and threats exclaimed: "Why all the war talk, anyhow?"

Second, Adlai Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, who happened to be in Europe last week on a roving mission, was invited by President de Gaulle to come to Paris to confer on the Bizerte issue.

Under instructions from the Department of State, for several days he discussed the situation in Tunisia with the French foreign minister, Couve de Murville, one of the ablest diplomats of the West.

On his return to the United States on Tuesday, Mr. Stevenson said that it should be possible for France and Tunisia "to arrange for quick talks and agreement to pull back forces of both sides to their pre-fight positions," thus paving the way for a speedy settlement of the Bizerte dispute.

As long as there is talk in critical situations, there is always hope, though a clearing of the air isn't helped by public demonstrations of hostility or by threatening speeches.

So, while Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. McCloy talked intimately and the personal message that the Soviet premier gave has been transmitted now to President Kennedy, it would be a mistake to assume that a basis for settlement has been reached.

THE SIGNIFICANCE in all this lies rather in the fact that private talks are being held.

This means that the art of reconciliation is being employed in what is sometimes called a search for "compromise," but in reality it can turn out to be a means for the abandonment of rigid positions previously held by both sides.

The trouble with having so many public propaganda statements in a crisis is that this makes face-saving devices difficult to work out.

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you yearn to be a hero in your own home? Many a husband does, but he doesn't know how to go about it. Actually, there isn't any great secret to it. A word to the wives is usually sufficient—provided it is the right word.

The failure of most husbands to attain the stature of a household god is a failure of communication. They don't know the right way to talk to their wives.

Here are a few tested sentences bound to make you the man-of-a-lifetime in your own living room—and also guaranteed to make every other husband in the block your mortal foe:

"I know you've had a hard day, dear. You go in and curl up with a good book. I'll cook dinner and do the dishes."

"Put down that pail this very moment! No wife of mine is ever going to carry out the garbage."

"You're absolutely right, dear. I'm going to ask the boss for a raise today, and if he says no—then I'll ask him again tomorrow."

"Write your mother back right now, and tell her we'll be glad to have her come for a visit anytime—and stay as long as she can."

"I took out another $10,000 worth of life insurance. If anything happens to me, I want you and the kids fully protected."

"Gee, I can't stand it when most women talk baseball. But you're different. You really understand the game."

"The new dress looks swell on you, but don't you think you ought to have a new coat and a new hat to kind of set it off?"

"You can go back to sleep. All he's probably yowling about is he wants a diaper change. I'll get up and fix him."

"Don't worry about that dent in the fender, dear. After all, we've had the car for a full month. And

David Lawrence

Yet the Berlin issue may be simpler than it appears. Lord Home, the British foreign secretary, has stated to a British television audience that there are three essential points as a possible basis for negotiation.

He named these as the right of West Berlin to determine its own future, the right of Allied troops to be in Berlin and the right of uninterrupted access to the city.

He declared: "We are willing and ready to talk and negotiate on this question."

The preliminaries in the discussion will soon be under way as the foreign secretaries of the United States, Britain and France start this week their conferences in Paris. Maybe Mr. Khrushchev himself is pondering coincidentally a formula of negotiation.

IN THE MEANTIME, what has been happening in Moscow?

While Ambassador Stevenson was striving in Paris to work out with the French government some diplomatic means to bring about direct negotiations with the Tunisian government over the situation in Bizerte, a rather encouraging thing occurred in the Soviet capital.

It was announced there that diplomatic representatives of nine African countries — Tunisia, the United Arab Republic, Ghana, Guinea, Morocco, Sudan, Mali, the Somali Republic and Ethiopia — were received by Premier Khrushchev for a discussion of the Tunisian problem.

Although he had a chance to muddy the waters, the Soviet premier chose to avoid any embarrassing move.

Instead, though expressing sympathy with the Tunisians over their losses at Bizerte, he told the nine African representatives that there was no need for the Soviet Union to make any broad statement on the Bizerte problem since the shooting had ceased and the matter was under negotiation.

THE SITUATION has not been helped, on the other hand, by the African nations which are seeking in New York a special session of the U.N. General Assembly for the purpose of giving vent to their anti-French feelings.

This doesn't make things easier for France, where public opinion would hardly sustain a government that backed down in the face of such tactics.

Particularly significant, however, is the statement made by the Tunisian representative at the U.N., who told a meeting of the Afro-Asian group Monday night in New York that his government is ready to discuss and time and place for negotiations with France if France concedes "the principle of eventual evacuation" of Bizerte.

This would not seem to be difficult for Paris to do, since a pledge to that effect has been already proclaimed by the French government.

So the way is open to more talk and more "quiet diplomacy" over Tunisia as well as Berlin.

Household Stature

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I got my engagement ring last night and I wanted you to be among the first to know because I think you are responsible.

My boy friend tried to talk me into a few things which I didn't think were right. After a couple of months of battling I knew I needed outside help or I would collapse, so I wrote to you for advice.

Whenever I felt myself weakening, I read him certain sentences of your advice. At first he said, "Ann's probably a shriveled up old crow who never has had a date in her life. That picture of her must be 30 years old."

Then his brother wrote that he heard you speak and that you were not an old crow, but a fairly decent-looking woman. I guess that turned the tide because from then on he stopped making fun of your advice and last night he gave me my ring. Thanks a lot. —J.R.

Dear J.R.: You're welcome.

A Widow's Night

Dear Ann: My husband's older sister is ruining my life. She'll be 68 next month (a widow) loaded with dough and strong as a mule. She drove alone from Maine to California last winter and changed two tires on the road.

Ruth plays poker four nights a week, takes mamba lessons and lives it up. She'll go any place at the drop of a travel folder but when WE want to leave town she becomes mysteriously ill.

Last week we were packed to leave on a fishing trip up north. She phoned at 2 a.m. to say she was having a heart attack. We rushed over there and the doctor said she had a slight muscle spasm in her left arm. (I'll bet she'd been playing the slot machine.)

My husband says he knows she's a liar but if anything happened to her while he was away he's never forgive himself. What can I do?—CANT COPE.

Dear Cope: If your husband knows she's a liar and continues to fall for her dramatics then he's pretty buggy, too.

It sounds as if Ruth travels it up pretty good. Why not plan your trips to coincide with hers? Then if she has a heart attack in Las Vegas while you are in Wisconsin your husband will be able to forgive himself.

Family Oddball

Dear Ann: You gave the right answer to that woman who wanted to know if she should change her son's last name so that it would be the same as his stepfather's.

My mother was a widow, too, and when she remarried I had to keep my blood father's name because it said so in the will. My stepfather had sons and it was hard for me to accept them as brothers for a long time because of the different last names.

All though school I had to answer questions and I hated it. It seems very odd to kids that brothers should not have the same last name. Unless children are almost grown, it is my firm belief that their names should be changed when their mother changes hers.—ODD MAN OUT.

Confidentially

TO POOR-FARM FRANK: A wife who goes so completely wild with the charge accounts should be put on a limited allowance. She sounds ill.

FICTION

MY FRIEND MONICA by Jane Duncan. Delightful nonsense about a neo-young British couple and their home in a row of four remodeled cottages. Has a serious vein as well.

THE REDHEAD by Alfred Andersch. Suspense and international intrigue, with a beautiful woman participating involuntarily.

HIDDEN ISLAND by Elizabeth Corbett. This love story of a beautiful and wealthy debutante and a highly suitable young man will please those who enjoy Miss Corbett's many novels.

A MONTH OF SUNDAYS by Louis Kronenberger. Serenity House is the name of the institution where the events of this story take place, but any resemblance between its name and the activities therein is purely imaginary. Very funny.

THE CROSS AND THE STAR by Connor Hammond Cole. Three chaplains from as many faiths meet and work together in Korea. Well told.

A JOURNEY TO MATECUMBE by Robert Lewis Taylor. The zany adventures of a 14-year-old Huckleberry Finn-type hero and his uncle and the Negro servant as they travel from Kentucky to Key West a few years after the Civil War.

LAST SCORE by Storm Jameson. Rebellion in a British island colony forces the British governor to take a hard look at himself for the first time.

Science Fiction
SPACEMEN, GO HOME by Milton Lesser. A struggle to keep the earth out of an interplanetary war.

FOUR-DAY PLANET by H. Beam Piper. A teen-ager fights for his home on a small undesirable planet.

NON-FICTION
THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING IMPERFECT by John Robert Clarke. Clarke is against perfectionists of any type — especially if they don't know that they are perfectionists. While telling all about the various types, he imparts quite a bit of wisdom about how to enjoy life.

THE NEW ENGLISH BIBLE. The much-discussed newly translated edition of the New Testament.

STRUCTURES OF PREJUDICE by Carlyle Marney. An objective and forthright study of the sources and expressions of prejudice in our culture, together with many suggestions for improving our attitudes.

PRINCIPLES OF A GROWING ECONOMY by Daniel Hamberg. A restatement of the fundamental principles of economics, together with their applications to public policy.

LAWYER by Talbot Smith. Another in the Career Books series — describes opportunities for careers in the legal profession.

SUBS AND SUBMARINES by Arch Whitehouse. An informal and colorful account of undersea warfare from the first crude designs and including the current nuclear-powered craft which form one of our chief deterrents against nuclear attack.

FOUR BIG YEARS by Richard W. Smith and Howard P. Sneath. Help for the prospective college student in selecting a college. It explains the diversity of American colleges, and shows what type of student will do best in each type of college.

WAR PLANES OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR by William Green. Two small volumes illustrating the fighting planes of World War II, with photographs and drawings of each.

PROJECT VANGUARD by Kurt R. Stehling. Head of the propulsion group of Project Vanguard since November 1955, Stehling tells his story interestingly and well.

HOW TO KEEP HOUSE by Mary Davis Gillies. Written primarily for the inexperienced housekeeper, but full of helpful hints for the old hand at the business.

WINNING CHESS OPENINGS by Fred Reinfield. Ten lessons on opening — the normal formation of each opening and the ways of exploiting deviations from the normal position.

SEA PHANTOMS by Warren Armstrong. The sub-title describes the book fully: True tales of haunted ships and ghostly crews.

GERMANY by Marshall Dill, Jr. A volume in the University of Michigan History of the Modern World. This series is under the general editorship of Allan Nevins, and is generally considered to be superior in quality.

OF MEN AND NUMBERS by Jane Muir. Short biographies of a dozen famous mathematicians from Pythagoras to the 20th century.

OUR SHARE OF MORNING by Paul Burnetz. How an Austrian family — father, mother and invalid five-year-old child — escape the Nazis by going to France, then Switzerland, back to France, back to Switzerland, and finally succeeded in getting to the United States.

THE EICHMANN COMMAND by Justice Michael A. Musmanno. An account by one of the judges at the Nuremberg trials, of the crimes of the men under the direct command of Adolf Eichmann.

STRIKE FROM THE SKY by Alexander McKee. The story of the few hundred fighter pilots who were the total crew that fought against the German Luftwaffe during the Battle of Britain — July 1940 — through December, 1940.

THE LOST TOWNS AND ROADS OF AMERICA by J. R. Humphreys. If our country's past means anything to us, and it should, each of us ought to read this charming book about towns and roads and other landmarks now all but obliterated because they have been bypassed by the modern network of roads.

NEWTON D. BAKER by C. H. Cramer. A full-scale biography of the one-time mayor of Cleveland and secretary of war during World War I by the present dean of Adelbert College at Western Reserve University.

KING OF THE MOUNTAIN MEN by Gene Caesar. Much research has been done to sort truth from fiction and legend in this story of the life of Jim Bridger.

NINTH LIFE by Milton Machlin and William R. Woodfield. A detailed account of the trial of Caryl Chessman for the crimes which he claimed to his death that he did not commit.

MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS by N. Brysson Morrison. A new, brief biography of the Queen whose story is always of interest to many.

A LIFE OF SHAKESPEARE by Hesketh Pearson. A biography by Hesketh Pearson is always worth reading. This is even better than his usual, for he has been a close student of Shakespeare all his life.

County Gets $5,677 In Court, Car Title Fees

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $5,677.03 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the car title department during July.

The clerk paid $6,034.92 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use taxes, and $42,876.58 was paid the state treasurer from the collection of the new dealers' tax, the county receiving $497.07 for its one per cent poundage. The state also received $1,211.55 for car title fees.

There were 71 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court, and the title department issued 3,303 auto titles, 29 duplicate titles, 702 memorandums, 1,287 notations of liens, 1169 cancellations of liens and 1,047 acknowledgments.

There were 355 titles issued for new vehicles during the month, representing a valuation of $1,014,224.61, Stacey said.

County Jail Report Issued by Sheriff

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports a total of 70 prisoners were received at the County jail during July, in addition to the 26 already confined as of July 1.

Sixty-eight prisoners were released during the month, two were conveyed to state institutions and five mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 117 visitors at the jail during the month.

A total of 2,639 meals was served at the jail at a total cost of $869.49, making the average daily cost per prisoner 99 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan reports that 226 papers were served and 6,326 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,208 phone calls. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 33 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month, and fees totaling $893.63 were collected.

Until 1959, paleontologists believed mankind to be 500,000 years old. Then Dr. L. S. B. Leakey reported the discovery in Tanganyika of an earlier man who lived and hunted on the shores of a long-vanished lake some 600,000 years ago.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Beaus Give Girl Chin Rash

Q — I have a burning problem, my chin. After a date when I've been kissed three or four times—I mean really kissed, meaningfully—my chin develops a brownish red discoloration or beard burn. After 24 hours the beard burn peels off leaving bruised or burned tissue that gives off watery matter for three or four days before healing.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

I'm a 21-year-old coed, doctor and I have no intention of giving up men for the rest of my life. But neither do I want to wear a chin guard when I go out on a date.

The boys I go out with are clean-cut and clean shaven. Must I settle for the idea of marrying a chinless specimen of manhood? I'm afraid I might become chinless myself if I marry a real he-man.

A—I HAVE GOOD NEWS for Miss Beard Rash of 1961 and a possible solution for this burning problem.

I suggest the possibility that you are allergic to some ingredient of some toilet preparation or cosmetic used by your "clean-cut and clean shaven" boy friends. Perhaps it's the shaving soap. Or the menthol that's added to some shaving soaps. Or the after-shave lotion. Or whatever else the dashing young blades of today put on their faces before they go aparking.

I still have a vivid memory of my first experience with these puzzling skin allergies. The complainant was the wife of a furrier. She was sensitive to a dye he used in his work. He was not. Just as in the case of my correspondent, it too, failed to respond to local applications. But it vanished rapidly and permanently when the furrier was persuaded to scrub his hands before he started for home.

Now at risk of bringing down criticism on my graying head, I'd suggest that our coed make another date with the last chap who was responsible for her chin rash. Only this time, tell him to prepare for the tryst by taking a dry shave, perhaps with an electric shaver. That and nothing else.

If the burn fails to develop, ask him to bring around the toilet articles and cosmetics he used before the previous date. Apply a sample of each to specified areas of your inner arms.

If a rash appears, your problem is solved. You may safely marry an all-American "He man." And may all your sons have dimpled chins, just like Cary Grant's.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Sanor Seeks Re-Election to County Board

L. Olan Sanor of near New Alexander in West Township filed today with the Election Board at East Liverpool to seek his second full term on the County Board of Education at the Nov. 7 general election.

A farmer and president of the Farm Bureau Council in his neighborhood Sanor also is commander of the North Georgetown America Legion Post. Sanor originally was named to the county board to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Roger Stafford of West Township. Sanor once served on the West Local School District Board of Education which was dissolved when a section of the area was transferred to the administration of Stark County schools.

Sanor is the third to file for a county board post this week. Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers entered Wednesday for a new term. Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia RD 2 filed for a board seat Tuesday. One of the incumbents Ben Weinert of Leetonia announced in July he would not seek a new term.

Five others filed for trustee posts and two entered for school board seats.

The trustee candidates and the townships in which they are running: Guy Dignan, Liverpool; Howard McKarns, Franklin; Carrey A. Houlette, Fairfield; Forrest A. Stallsmith, Unity; and Ralph Cusick, Madison.

Milton E. Steiner entered for the United Local Board of Education. Virgil Y. Blosser filed for the school board in the Columbiana Village Exempted District.

Deaths, Funerals

Friends and relatives here have received word of the death of Mrs. George Darcey, 68, of Los Angeles, Calif. who succumbed Wednesday morning at Silver Springs Sanatorium there.

Born in East Palestine Jan. 20, 1893 she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis.

She leaves her husband and a sister Mrs. Richard Fenstermaker of the Depot Road.

and become a naturalized Cuban citizen."

Gilman said he told the father that only a criminal or a Communist would do what he was doing and make his son help him.

"He refused to answer me when I asked if he was a Communist. He denied vehemently that he was involved with Castro, but he said he had friends in Cuba."

"I asked him if his wife knew what he was doing and he said she did and she would join him in Cuba later."

"We got the father busy talking and I heard some of the hostages slip out the window (at the back of the plane)."

Later Crosby and Gilman tried to get the father and son to give up. They told the hijackers there was no hope for escape.

"I got a glimpse of a border patrolman climbing into the plane through a cracked door," Gilman said. "I caught the father behind the ear and Crosby got the boy and a couple of border patrolmen came through the door to help us."

Gilman suffered a fractured hand from the blow he delivered to Bearden. He was treated at an El Paso hospital and his hand placed in a cast.

"I had him off guard several times, but there were too many people around to risk rushing him. At one time he was holding the gun to the head of one of the hostages."

"I was happy to be there and I might say that all the group acted very well under the circumstances."

Gilman was a boxer and football star at Pacific University of Oregon. He has been with the Border Patrol for 21 years.

of a peace treaty on an agreed basis."

The note was delivered only a few hours after Khrushchev told Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy in a Moscow conference Thursday that he felt a solution was possible without a war but advised the United States and others against making a mistake about Russian firmness.

"Of course the Soviet government would prefer not to proceed to conclude a peace treaty without participation of the Western powers," Moscow's note said.

"It would sincerely welcome a change in the position of the Western powers in the direction of constructive joint action with the U.S.S.R. in the matter of a German peace treaty."

The note, which was signed personally Thursday by Khrushchev, recalled that the German problem was up for discussion at the ill-fated summit conference in Paris May 16, 1960.

The conference could not take place, it said, "as a result of the provocative action of the former government of the U.S.A. toward the Soviet Union."

This referred to the incident of the U2 reconnaissance plane of U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers which was shot down over the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

Commissioners Okay Salem, Guilford Plats

LISBON — Two plats were approved and moving equipment was purchased when the Columbiana county commissioners met Thursday.

Brookwood Manor, north of Salem, owned by Bill and Evelyn Albright, and the Lakeview Heights allotment at Guilford Lake, owned by James and Anna Mae Gurley, were approved.

A mowder was purchased from Howard E. Adams of Salineville for the county highway department at a price of $5,079.20 which included a trade-in of an old mowder. A tractor with a mowing attachment was also purchased from Kibler Equipment Co., Columbiana-New Waterford Road, for $2,970.

In other business the commissioners authorized the payment of $29.50 for 59 dogs killed in East Liverpool in July.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

GOP Groups Plan Future Activities

A joint executive meeting of the Salem Men's Republican Club and the Salem Women's Republican Club was held Thursday noon at the Lape Hotel with 20 executive officers in attendance, and Ernest Whitacre, president of the Men's Club, presiding.

The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate the Republican activities in this area and to formulate plans for a municipal campaign in the fall.

A unified GOP rally with an outstanding speaker is planned for Sept. 18 for all Republicans in the area.

The men's Republican Club reported a total membership of 320 members, the largest group ever recorded in Salem. The total membership of the combined clubs is 550 members.

The committee appointed to plan the September rally is Mary Lindner, Elma Auld, Lloyd Gordon and L. J. Raymond Jr.

day they contemptuously rejected U.S. objections to this effort.

Neues Deutschland the official party daily advised the State Department not to play Don Quixote a reference to Cervantes' fictional Spanish knight who set out to defend the oppressed and right wrongs.

The editorial recommended attention instead to Sen. J. William Fulbright's suggestion that the Western allies close West Berlin to refugees in exchange for guarantees of the Western position in Berlin. The Arkansas Democrat chairman of the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee said that would not be much of a concession for the West since the Communists have the power to stop the refugees anyway.

Submachine gun and rifle fire could be heard dimly in the noise of the jet engines. The plane came to a halt, its landing gear and an engine damaged, its pressurized cabin punctured by the gunfire.

Quickly, ambulances, baggage trailers, trucks and cars with armed men encircled the damaged plane. In the wild scene, mechanics tinkered with the plane, still stalling, every minute valuable. Spectators pushed close.

At 12:55 p.m., a back door to the plane opened and the stewardesses, Tony Besset and Lois Carnagy alighted. Robert Six, the Continental president, embraced them joyfully.

Minutes later, the other four crewmen alighted as the FBI agent-in-charge, Francis Crosby went aboard to negotiate with the gun-wielding Beards, growing more nervous and more dangerous as the minutes passed.

Aboard with Crosby were the Beards, Gilman and the other three passenger hostages, Pic Truman H. Cleveland of St. Augustine, Fla.; Jack Casey, a Continental Airlines employee from Houston; and Luis L. Erives of Los Angeles.

As the negotiations progressed, Gilman and Crosby, with their eyes made their plans known to one another. Suddenly, Bearden dropped his eyes. Gilman blugged him—a vicious knockout blow.

At the same instant, Crosby overpowered the Bearden boy.

At 1:48 p.m., the hostages stepped from the plane.

A relieved officer said it was all over.

At their arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Henry Clifton the Beards entered pleas of innocence. They were charged with transportation of a stolen plane and kidnapping.

"I'd like to plead not guilty, currently," the elder Bearden told Clifton. The boy, Cody, nodded affirmatively to the commissioner's question if that went for him, too.

Temper flared and words grew bitter in Congress as clerks rushed reports of the hijacking to senators and representatives.

It wasn't until Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., told the Senate of the capture of the Beards that senators generally decided Cuba might not be involved.

Monroney made his announcement after conferring with Naheeb E. Halaby, FAA administrator. Halaby's Federal Aviation Agency authorized commercial airline pilots and crews to carry guns to prevent any future hijackings.

The FAA action drew critical response from the Air Line Pilots Association and Airline Spokesmen displayed little enthusiasm for the plan.

Most congressional reaction to the incident stemmed from the belief that Cuba was involved. Tempers calmed when it became known that the hijacking team was an American father and his son.

Continental airlines said Thursday night it devised four plans to foil the air pirates. These included shooting the tires off, which finally did the trick; an offer to trade a DC7 for the jet 707, and for Air Force Jets to "shoot the nose off the plane" if it became airborne.

A fourth plan was made but was discarded. The other three plans had FBI approval.

Man Killed While Breaking Into Store

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Policemen shot and killed Nick Petro, 31, early today while investigating a report that a dairy store was being broken into.

The officers said they saw Petro, who had been staying at the Volunteers of America, trying to break into the D & T Dairy Store.

Petro fled, ignoring a warning shot, police said. The officers then opened fire, and Petro was hit in the head and leg.

rates, to be roughed up as they alighted.

The plane carried 67 passengers, including the two gunmen, and a crew of six, four men and the two stewardesses. Among the passengers was Gilman en route on official business to Brownsville, Tex.

When Cap. Rickard, 52, of Redondo Beach, Calif., persuaded the Beards to allow the passengers to disembark, Gilman volunteered as one of the four who would stay aboard the plane.

Bearden insisted on 10 persons including the crew as hostages, because he said he feared "authorities would not put much value on six lives."

Then as Continental's ground crewmen stalled with refueling the plane, the younger Bearden and his father became nervous. They wanted to exchange the big Boeing 707 for a DC6. The company offered a DC7.

But from Washington, meanwhile, came the message from Kennedy. Stand firm, the message said.

Inside the big jet, the younger Bearden suddenly accused everybody of stalling. His father agreed. Suddenly they ordered a takeoff. The big plane rolled down the runway, Border Patrol cars in pursuit.

Submachine gun and rifle fire could be heard dimly in the noise of the jet engines. The plane came to a halt, its landing gear and an engine damaged, its pressurized cabin punctured by the gunfire.

Quickly, ambulances, baggage trailers, trucks and cars with armed men encircled the damaged plane. In the wild scene, mechanics tinkered with the plane, still stalling, every minute valuable. Spectators pushed close.

At 12:55 p.m., a back door to the plane opened and the stewardesses, Tony Besset and Lois Carnagy alighted. Robert Six, the Continental president, embraced them joyfully.

Minutes later, the other four crewmen alighted as the FBI agent-in-charge, Francis Crosby went aboard to negotiate with the gun-wielding Beards, growing more nervous and more dangerous as the minutes passed.

Aboard with Crosby were the Beards, Gilman and the other three passenger hostages, Pic Truman H. Cleveland of St. Augustine, Fla.; Jack Casey, a Continental Airlines employee from Houston; and Luis L. Erives of Los Angeles.

As the negotiations progressed, Gilman and Crosby, with their eyes made their plans known to one another. Suddenly, Bearden dropped his eyes. Gilman blugged him—a vicious knockout blow.

At the same instant, Crosby overpowered the Bearden boy.

At 1:48 p.m., the hostages stepped from the plane.

A relieved officer said it was all over.

At their arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Henry Clifton the Beards entered pleas of innocence. They were charged with transportation of a stolen plane and kidnapping.

"I'd like to plead not guilty, currently," the elder Bearden told Clifton. The boy, Cody, nodded affirmatively to the commissioner's question if that went for him, too.

Temper flared and words grew bitter in Congress as clerks rushed reports of the hijacking to senators and representatives.

It wasn't until Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., told the Senate of the capture of the Beards that senators generally decided Cuba might not be involved.

Monroney made his announcement after conferring with Naheeb E. Halaby, FAA administrator. Halaby's Federal Aviation Agency authorized commercial airline pilots and crews to carry guns to prevent any future hijackings.

The FAA action drew critical response from the Air Line Pilots Association and Airline Spokesmen displayed little enthusiasm for the plan.

Most congressional reaction to the incident stemmed from the belief that Cuba was involved. Tempers calmed when it became known that the hijacking team was an American father and his son.

Income Tax Faces Fourth Test In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL — A fourth test of the income tax question in East Liverpool at the polls Nov. 7 is assured, as 23 petitions filed July 27 by Trades and Labor Council, seeking a ballot place for an initiative ordinance, contained 1,046 valid voters' signatures—170 more than the minimum of 876 required to force a vote.

City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, with whom the petitions were filed, issued the report of the signature count today after his office staff completed the task of checking each name individually against records at the County Election Board office.

The auditor said he will certify his findings to the Election Board next Wednesday at 4:30 p.m., along with a certified copy of the initiative ordinance proposed by Trades Council.

The petitions, as filed with Applegate by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer of Trades Council, carried a total of 1,185 names. The auditor said his office staff's check eliminated 139.

The names of 108 were eliminated for non-registration and 31 more were rejected for illegibility or apparent duplication in names, the auditor reported. The job of checking the signatures was handled by Mrs. Helen Pepin of the auditor's staff.

E. Liverpool Woman Injured In Crash

An East Liverpool woman suffered a whiplash injury of the neck in one of three traffic accidents which occurred on Columbiana County highways Thursday.

Dollie Viskak of RD 1, East Liverpool, was hurt when the car in which she was riding collided with another auto on Rt. 30, about 3½ miles north of East Liverpool at 5:45 p.m. She did not require medical treatment.

She was a passenger in a car operated by Glen Shelton, 25, of RD 1, East Liverpool, which was hit by an auto driven by Andrew T. Lepock, 27, of RD 3, Lisbon.

According to the state highway patrol, Shelton had stopped to make a turn when Lepock struck his car from the rear, causing considerable damage to both vehicles. Lepock was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Both drivers were cited in a two-car mishap that occurred on County Rd. 405, about a half mile south of Damascus, at 9:35 p.m. The patrol reported that Carol J. Delzell, 22, of Damascus, going north on Rt. 405, had slowed down to make a turn when her car was struck by one driven by Thomas L. Eddy, 17, of RD 2, Salem, who was attempting to pass.

The Damascus woman was cited for failing to signal a turn and Eddy for improper passing.

No one was injured when a car and a farm tractor sideswiped on Rt. 558, about a mile west of East Fairfield, at 4:25 p.m.

According to the patrol, Thomas J. Coella, 13, of RD 1 East Palestine, driving a tractor, attempted to make a left turn into a private drive and collided with a car operated by Thomas Wigton, 25, of East Palestine who was attempting to pass. Damage to both vehicles was minor.

TWO TRUCKERS FINED

Two truck drivers were fined for overload today by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer. Fined were James Barber, 47, of Lima, $25 and costs; and John R. Fisher, 27, of Sipesville, Pa., $57 and costs.

Boy Suffers Injury In Bike-Car Mishap

A seven-year-old Salem boy suffered a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the body and right knee when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car at the intersection of W. Pershing St. and S. Howard Ave. at 7:12 p.m. Thursday.

Rickey Melton, of 287 S. Ellsworth Ave., was treated at the Central Clinic and released. Police said he disregarded a stop light and drove into the intersection where he was struck by a car driven by Clinton Whaley, 43, of 583 W. Pershing, who was traveling west on Pershing.

Vincent Andrus, 37, of RD 1, Lisbon, was cited for improper backing after his car collided with a truck in Sugar-Tree Alley, just east of N. Ellsworth Ave., at 5:10 p.m. Thursday.

Police said Andrus backed into the side of an Alexander Scrap Iron & Metal Co. truck, driven by Charles Alexander, 59, of 353 Newgarden Ave. Andrus forfeited a $10 bond in Mayor's Court today.

30 Babies Rescued From Hospital Fire

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Smoke from a refrigerator motor fire filled a hospital nursery Thursday night, but rescuers carried 30 newborn babies to safety.

Authorities at McDonald House of University Hospitals said the babies were in good condition and suffered no apparent after effects.

A floor nurse smelled the smoke and alerted the hospital telephone operator, who turned in a general alarm. Scores of hospital employees, nurses, doctors and aides responded.

Some rescuers ran out of the smoke-filled area with an infant under each arm. All were taken to the fifth floor.

Three engine companies, two hook and ladders and a fire rescue squad raced to the scene. Eighth Battalion Chief William McMonagle said an overheated motor caused the smoke, but no flames. No loss was reported.

The formula-loaded refrigerator was in the nursery. Thirty mothers, aware of the situation at the other end of the hall, did not panic. The smoke did not reach them. They stayed in their rooms.

Referring back to taxes, DiSalle asserted some GOP legislative candidates campaigned last year with the statement that Ohio taxes were increased far too high by the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's request.

"Did they cut taxes?" He asked. "They did not! They couldn't and they were dishonest when they said it could be done."

Old Dutch Cops 1-0 Tourney Win On Roesti's Hit

Herman Gets 2nd Shutout

Shaffer Ford Dumps Tullis'; Dickey's Win

Jack Roesti's hit in the last of the eighth inning gave tourney favorite Old Dutch its second straight shutout victory as the Class AA league leaders nipped East Liverpool East End, 1-0 behind the pitching of Bill Herman Thursday at Kelley Park in the Columbiana County Softball Tournament.

In other games Shaffer Ford topped the Tullis American nine, 7-2 and Dickey Feed Service eliminated Theron's IGA on Glenn Mercer's 9-0 triumph.

OLD DUTCH chalked up its second 1-0 win in a row behind the pitching of Herman. On Monday Industrial Mining was the victim.

The win moves Old Dutch into the semifinal battle against Shaffer Ford. The victor will take on the semifinal winner among the teams that have lost one game in the double elimination affair for the tourney championship.

East Liverpool's only error of the game set the stage for Roesti's hit. Jim Weizenacker started the frame off with the initial walk off of Potter hurler, Gene Talbot. After Bill Herman fled to left, Whitey Moore hit a grounder to shortstop Al Dawson who flipped the ball to Jack Pease to start a double play but Pease juggled the ball and both runners were safe.

PEASE MADE a neat catch of Jerry Mountz's liner on the next play but the next batter was Roesti who wrapped up the extra inning tilt with his hit.

Tullis American dropped into the loser bracket as a result of the loss to Shaffer Ford. Satch Altmore hurled a three-hitter against the Mile Branch-stocked Tullis team.

Bruce Feicht put the winners into a 2-0 lead in the first frame on a two-run homer. Feicht was Shaffer's man-of-the-hour as his double in the fourth broke the game wide open.

Roger James led the fourth frame off with a double followed by a walk, a sacrifice, a hit by Joe Billett and Feicht's sock. Bill Ferguson hit safely to run the score to 7-1.

Ted Schwartzoff clouted a homer for Tullis' in the seventh inning.

DICKEY FEED jumped off to a 3-0 margin in the first inning on Joe Tucker's hit, a triple by Jim Barnes and Ed Bozick's safety to give pitcher Mercer a comfortable lead.

Mercer limited Theron's to four hits while his teammates were collecting 10.

A hit by Mercer, a walk to Ken Schoeni, two errors and a blooper by Roger Stittle made it 7-0 after two frames for Dickey's as the winners coasted to the win. Theron's became the seventh team to drop from the tourney.

BY THE NUMBERS — This is the toughest time for professional football players drilling and exercising under the hot summer sun. Some of the New York Giants on the Fairfield, Conn., University field don't yet seem to be in quite the condition they'd want to be in.

Dodgers Nip Giants; White Sox Trip Indians 8-6

Tigers Win On Colavito's Homer, Cut Yanks Lead; Bucs Rout Cards

By The Associated Press
The pitchers finally had their day in the American League Thursday yielding only six home runs in five games, five of them in the Chicago-Cleveland contest won by the White Sox 8-6.

The only other home run was hit by Detroit's Rocky Colavito, which gave the Tigers a 2-1 triumph over Washington and narrowed the New York Yankees' first place lead over Detroit to a game and a half. The Yankees were defeated by Kansas City 6-1 with Bob Shaw holding Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and company to six hits, all singles.

Brown Gets 3rd Shutout
Skinny Brown pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 victory over Minnesota. It was the 36-year-old right-hander's third straight shutout and extended his consecutive scoreless string to 32 innings.

Rookie Don Schwall of Boston blanked the Los Angeles Angels 4-0 with three hits for his 12th victory in 14 decisions and his sixth straight.

Brown of Baltimore and Jim Kaat of Minnesota were locked in a scoreless duel until the eighth when the Orioles scored three runs on two hits and a pair of Minnesota errors.

Detroit's Jim Bunning pitched a four-hitter against the Senators. The tall right-hander fanned six for his 12th victory, seventh in his last nine decisions.

Second baseman Jerry Lumpe, who once played for the Yankees, led the A's nine hit assault against loser Bud Daley, a former Kansas City pitcher. Lumpe had a double and triple, scored twice and drove in a run.

Bosox Score Four In Eighth
The Red Sox broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Schwall and Ken McBride of the Angels, scoring all their runs in the eighth.

Bubba Phillips got the Indians off to a 4-0 lead with a grand slam homer in the first inning but the White Sox came back with two runs in each of the second, third, fourth and ninth innings.

The last two tallies, which proved to be the winning runs, resulted from relief pitcher Frank Funk's wild throw on a bunt. Luis Aparicio, with a home run and two singles, led the Sox' 13-hit attack.

Leetonia Man Sees Large Fish Caught At Michigan Lake
A Leetonia man was witness to what was termed "the largest catch in many years" when his 16-year-old fishing guide hauled in a 50 inch, 28 lb. Northern Pike with a 19 1/2 inch girth while vacationing in Michigan recently.

Charles Granger and his wife, Grace, of RD 1, Leetonia were in Grand Marais, Mich. at Grand Sable Lake when the incident occurred. The record fish topped the previous "whopper" that available records say went 42 inches when it was caught about four years ago.

Granger, his guide and another fisherman were fishing in the same boat when the youth nailed the prize fish. Granger was instrumental in getting the fish into the boat, along with the aid of the other fisherman.

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh's Puerto Rican outfielder, thinks the writers erred when they voted him as the National League's most valuable player in 1960. The lapping Latin did much to further his cause Thursday night when he cracked five straight hits to lead a 24-hit onslaught against three St. Louis pitchers for a 19-0 victory.

Clemente Has Hot Bat
Whether Clemente wins the MVP title or not, he should, barring a catastrophe, capture the batting title. His mark of .366 is 24 points higher than that of his nearest competitor, Frank Robinson of Cincinnati.

Robinson banged his 33rd home run as the Reds defeated Philadelphia 7-1 for their 15th victory in as many meetings with the Phillies this season. The triumph enabled the Reds to maintain their game lead over Los Angeles, which nipped San Francisco, 4-3, in 10 innings. Milwaukee defeated Chicago 5-2.

Harvey Haddix was the beneficiary of the Pirates' avalanche of runs against Al Cicotte, Bob Miller and Lindy McDaniel.

Every starting Pirate participated in the merciless slaughter. Smoky Burgess had a couple of homers and drove in six runs. Dick Stuart had a grand slammer and batted in five runs, Bill Mazeroski had four hits, and Bill Virdon, Don Hoak and Bob Skinner had three hits apiece.

Error Gives Dodgers Win
An error by infielder Joe Amalfitano with two out and the bases full in the 10th inning permitted pitcher Larry Sherry to score with the Dodgers' winning run.

The hitter was John Roseboro, whose home run in the ninth had tied the score at 3-3. It was an error by Roseboro, earlier, that enabled the Giants to break a 2-2 deadlock with an unearned run.

Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette had a one-hit shutout until the ninth when Al Heist singled and Ernie Banks followed with his 19th home run to account for both Chicago runs. Frank Bolling had three hits and Frank Thomas had a home run for the Braves.

Robbys Knoll League Teams Trade Places

Pittsburgh Foundry and Sebring Log Cabin continued to combine the rankings of the Robbys Knoll Golf League but a shuffle took place among the teams below the pace-setters as a result of last week's activity.

In the American Division Robbys Knoll took over sole possession of third place after being tied with Shaffer Ford and the Saxon Lanes for fourth position. Shaffer's fell to seventh while the Lanes crew remained deadlocked for fourth but with the First National Bank who dropped from third.

Lippiatt Floor Covering, Recreation Billiards, Eljer No. 2 and Julian Electric all moved up two rungs in the National Division. Lippiatt jumped from 10th to seventh; the Billiards 11th to ninth; Eljer from seventh to fifth; and Julian from sixth to fourth.

The First National Bank aggregation fired a total score of 149, five over par, to capture low team gross honors for the week.

Bob Agan and Gene Dean, both members of the Bank crew, shot low gross scores of 36 along with Dick Strain of Genesee to grab individual honors.

Others firing low gross scores for the week include Dave Schuster, Pittsburgh Foundry and Dick Ehrhart, Church Budget, both with 37's; Dan Hendricks, Parker; Jack Patterson, Robbys Knoll; Lee Bennett, Damascus Lumber; Sarge Ware, Bank; Fred Sommers and Fred Cope, both of the Foundry and Fred En-triken, Saxon Lanes, all had 38's.

Lowell Buckman, Barclay; Del Smith and Ed Calahan, both of Ohio Fuel; Walt Meiter, Gottschall; Bo Theiss, Gordon Scott's; Tony Ciminelli, Recreation; Demp Balsley, Bank; Doc Murdock, Julian, and Dick Jackson, Church Budget, all scored 39's.

The league standings are as follows:

Eagles Gear Defense To Stop Navy's Bellino

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Navy's Joe Bellino, the smallest All Star, tonight could become one of the biggest heroes of the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field that sends a squad of picked graduated collegians against the Philadelphia Eagles.

The 5-foot-9-inch, 173-pound All-America halfback—a Navy ensign—will be playing in his last game and would like to make his departure a long remembered one. After it is over he will return to Annapolis for duty.

The 28th annual game sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities Inc. will attract about 65,000 spectators and will be televised and broadcast by ABC starting at 9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time and 10 p.m. Salem time.

Bellino, 33, is the type of break-away runner and adept pass catcher that the National Football League champion Eagles know they must stop. He will be a marked man. But his last game could be a big one.

Although a saturation bombing by passers Norm Snead of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA and Tom Matte of Ohio State seems likely, the All Stars are well prepared to run against the pros.

The Eagles have a defensive secondary that could be tough against passing. But their line-backing could stand improvement and, defensively, they appear only moderately efficient against running.

The Eagles have been installed a 10-point favorite although they must face one of the better All-Star groups without the leadership and aerial power provided by Norm Van Brocklin last season. He is now coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

The pros have won 17 of the 27 games played and two have been ties.

Reds Hold NL Lead, Bounce Phils 7-1

Phillies Are 0-15 Against Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Leo Cardenas went in at shortstop for the Cincinnati Reds 14 games ago to spell Eddie Kasko for a short time, and now they cannot get him out of the lineup.

The thin, 150-pound Cuban, who doesn't look big enough to be a major league ball player, has been fielding sensationally and hitting a .358 average.

Kasko Leads Reds

His three hits Thursday night—one of them a double—helped the Reds defeat Philadelphia for the 15th consecutive time and hold on to their lead in the National League pennant race. The score was 7-1. The Phils have not won a game from Cincinnati this season.

Not only is Cardenas making fine defense plays and hitting well but he has started to direct defense play in the infield.

Cardenas entered the lineup July 23 with a batting average of .250. He missed getting a hit in only one of the games since and has boosted his overall batting average for the season to .295.

In the last 14 games, he has knocked the ball out of the park twice and sent the outfielders to the fences on several other occasions.

Philadelphia used four pitchers Thursday night in a dreary attempt to break the Cincinnati spell. John Buzhardt, who has won only three games this year, lost his 11th. It was the fifth consecutive time Cincinnati has defeated him.

Johnson Wins 2nd Game

Ken Johnson, brought up from Toronto in the International League on July 21, won his second game. He held the Phils to nine hits. Meanwhile Cincinnati punted Buzhardt, Frank Sullivan, Jim Owens and Ken Lehman for 15 solid blows.

The Reds will open a four-game series tonight with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who routed St. Louis by a 19-0 score Thursday night. The Pirates have defeated Cincinnati six times while losing five to them this season.

Bob Purkey (13-5) will pitch for Cincinnati tonight against the Pirates' Joe Gibbon (8-6).

Philadelphia 010 000 000—1 9 1 Cincinnati 020 122 00X—7 15 0 Buzhardt, Sullivan (5), Owens (6), Lehman (8) and D. Johnson; K. Johnson and Edwards, W—K. Johnson (2-0). L—Buzhardt (3-11). Home run—Cincinnati, Robinson (33).

Steve Harrick is the veteran among West Virginia's coaches. He has coached wrestling 23 years and baseball 14 years.

Gilbert's Hold First Place In Flying B Loop

Gilbert's Drive-In hung on to first place in the Flying B Golf League with first round winner Corso's Wine Shop close behind after last week's action.

Tony Katro and Bill Potts each fired a low net of 34 to pace the Gilbert's crew to a win over United Tool & Die, knocking the losers from third place into ninth position.

Corso's scored a victory over the Powder Puff Beauty Salon behind the fine shooting of Ralph Knepper and Bill Wagner, both posting a score of 38. The 10's tumbled the Beauty Salon into eighth place from fourth.

Making the biggest jump of the week was the Golden Nuggets team who climbed from eighth into third behind Corso's. The Nuggets downed the Lincoln Machine aggregation in gaining the third rung.

Demps Balsey was the big gun in the Penn Grill surge from ninth place last week to fifth position. Balsey totaled a low gross score of 36.

The standings for the league is as follows:

	Pts.
Gilbert's Drive-In	38
Corso's Wine Shop	30 1/2
Golden Nuggets	22
Lincoln Machine	21
Penn Grill	19
Riffle Heating and Plumbing	18 1/2

Hunter Seeded 8th In Tennis Tourney

Salem's Dave Hunter is one of eight players that have been seeded in the 2nd Annual East Liverpool Lions Club Tennis Tournament that gets underway today.

Hunter, tagged the eighth best in the tourney, will compete with 34 other entries, including Woody Deitch of Salem and several top college tennis stars.

Both Hunter and Deitch will begin their quest for the singles championship at 5:30 p.m. today. Hunter will tangle with Joe Leigh and Deitch clashes with the fifth seeded racquetman, Ed Dupuy.

Top seeded in the tourney is last year's singles titleholder, Amadeo Dinardo of Sharon. Other top attractions in the field include John Garver of Youngstown, winner of the East Palestine singles crown; Joe Brown, the No. 2 ranked player in Pittsburgh; Dave Laughlin, seventh seeded and Ralph Mason Jr., along with Brown are members of the Pitt net crew.

Because of the large number of entries in the tourney, matches will be played in East Liverpool Rogers Field in Mill Creek Park.

Paul Brown Counting on Good Year

Opponents Tag Browns 'Team to Beat' in 1961

By FRITZ HOWELL

associated Press Sports Writer
HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—This could be, and probably is, the year the Cleveland Browns head back to the National Football League heights.

After eight fabulous campaigns in which they won the eastern conference title seven times and the world championship on three occasions the Cleveland corps has finished second the last three seasons.

And they don't like that runner-up spot.

Brown Counting On Big Season

Coach Paul E. Brown, who has constructed a record of 282 wins against 63 losses and a dozen ties in a 1930-60 career spreading over high school, collegiate, military service and professional play, has a hunch this could be one of his big seasons.

All his 1960 starters, 11 on offense and 11 on defense, are back. They are augmented by a dozen newcomers, several of whom threaten to break into the starting lineups. The Browns' future looks rosy.

"Everyone in the league is giving us a concentrated buildup," Precision Paul said today. "All our opponents are saying, Cleveland is our big game." But we don't mind a bit, for we have a proud team.

"We have the youngest outfit in the league, so it's odd to have everyone point the 'you're it' finger at us. But we like it that way, for it gives our kids a boost in morale. And in naming us the team to beat, they could be right."

Hot Stove Leagues

Ailes Insurance moved into a first place tie with Home Furniture in Class H as a result of Ailes' 6-5 victory over Merchants Vending Thursday in Hot Stove League activity.

In other encounters Hobbycraft dumped Stark's Colonial, 8-6 in Class H; the Elks bumped Fisher's News, 9-7, and the Farmers Bank edged Salem Stamping, 7-6 in Class F play.

In Class E the Famous Market scored an 8-3 win over the Columbiana Enterprise nine, and Mike DeRienzo hurled a one-hitter to lead the Salem VFW to an 8-1 victory over the Columbiana Enterprise nine, and CIO 3816 upended CIO 3372, 3-1. In Class G the Italian Club forfeited to the K of C.

Ailes poured five tallies across the plate in the fourth frame to take a 6-4 margin and ice the contest. Craig Anderson the winning pitcher, led the uprising with a double and received help from Jim Marks, Rickson Jackson and Richard Ewing, all rapping singles.

The win gives Ailes an 8-1 mark, identical with the Home Furniture nine.

Harry Ewing socked two homers in a losing cause for Stark's Colonial. Ewing paced the five-hit attack of the losers with a perfect three-for-three at the plate.

Hobbycraft erupted for six tallies in the second inning to break a 1-1 tie to grab the win. John Lantz was the big gun for the winners as he rapped two doubles and received credit for the win, fanning 11 Stark's batters. Larry Kachner added two hits for the Hobbycraft team.

The Elks pounded 12 hits in winning over the Fisher's News aggregation. John Tolson was the leading hitter getting three safeties in three official trips to the plate.

Gary Cosgrove rapped a double for the losers' only extra base hit.

Reds Attempt To Clog Drain

West Berlin Affords Easiest Escape Route For Refugees

EDITOR'S NOTE—The spectacle of people running from the republic the Communists have created in East Germany is one that galls the Reds, a drain they would like to clog. It also adds fuel to the fire which keeps the pot of crisis aboil in Berlin. In this last of a series of articles on the background of the crisis, AP reporter John Bausman tells the story of the refugees.

By JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP)—For the past 12 years police of Communist East Germany have been tramping up to abandoned homes, fixing a seal on the door and preparing to auction the household goods.

They are the homes of people who left just about everything behind to flee to the West.

Since 1949, when the Communist regime was set up in Soviet-occupied Germany, more than 2,600,000 persons have come to the West. They give continued evidence of discontent with Communist rule. They are key figures in recurrent Berlin crises.

The vast majority of these refugees funnel through West Berlin, a far easier escape route than trying to cross the tightly guarded iron curtain border that divides East and West Germany.

West Berlin, still occupied by the Atlantic Allies of World War II, is an island of Western territory 110 miles inside that barbed-wire barrier. The refugee who makes his way to East Berlin has little trouble getting to the Western side via subway or elevated train. From there he is flown to West Germany, skipping border controls on the land route.

The Communists would love to close this escape route. For years the East Germans, with Soviet backing, have been seeking control of all routes to and from Berlin.

The flight of refugees makes East Germany the only modern industrial nation in the world with a declining population.

The refugees are a cross-section of life, with industrial workers and laborers forming the biggest group. There are farmers, tradesmen, housewives, students and such highly trained people as doctors, engineers and teachers.

This last group of intellectuals and experts is a small part of the total refugee flood, but one that hurts the Communists. In the six-year period from 1954 to 1960, East Germany lost 35,000 intellectuals, including 14,000 engineers and 4,000 doctors and dentists.

Western sources estimate the number of patients per doctor in East Germany is up to about 1,400 compared to 700 in West Germany.

And many a skilled worker refugee has amused himself with the thought of how tough it will be for his old Communist bosses to find a replacement. Besides being an economic drain, the refugee stream is an embarrassment to the Reds. It leaves no doubt that people are dissatisfied with communism.

"We cannot strip that part of Germany of its best people. We say 'Stay as long as you can. If you can't stand it any longer, then we'll do all we can to help you,'" West German Chancellor Adenauer once declared.

One secret of successful escape is to carry little. In spot checking trains, police are always suspicious if one carries much luggage or big packages.

What happens to the possessions left behind?

They are auctioned off and the proceeds are put in a special bank account under the refugee's name.

"That's what they say they do with the money anyway," the young father said. "I don't know whether they do or not and I'm no going back to find out."
